

Katarzyna Ponikowska, PhD is a Senior Lecturer at the University of Silesia, Faculty of Social Sciences. Graduated from sociology at the University of Silesia and Business School, University of Greenwich, London. Both, her master's and doctoral thesis were devoted to ecological problems of the contemporary world. Her research has mainly concentrated on changing values and human awareness under processes of globalisation, sustainable development issues and their implementation into social movements, local communities and business. Now, her scientific interests and didactic activity develop around cross-cultural communication, negotiations, and conflict-solving problems.
